Overview

The site creates connections between guilds and players, displays feedback, facilitates the search for better game play.

You can register on the site, after registration you have the option to fill in guild information and select a game, then your guild letterhead will appear in the selected game.

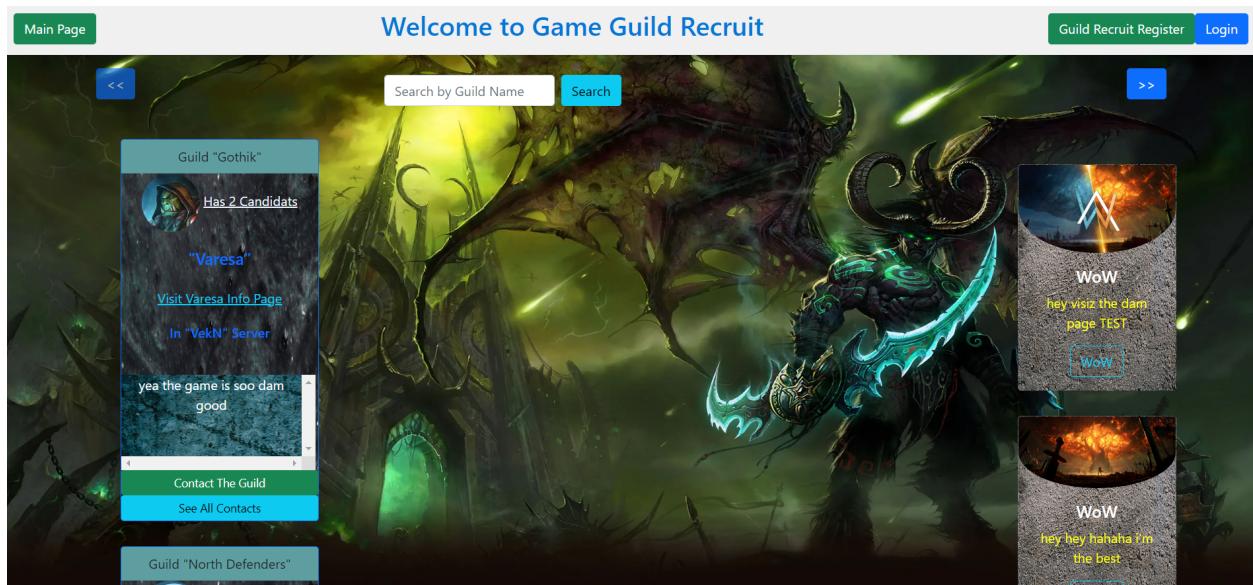

Users can see all their candidates and accept or reject them, also give them feedback.

Not logged in users can select a game and see guild blanks, have the option to apply for the selected guild or see already applied.

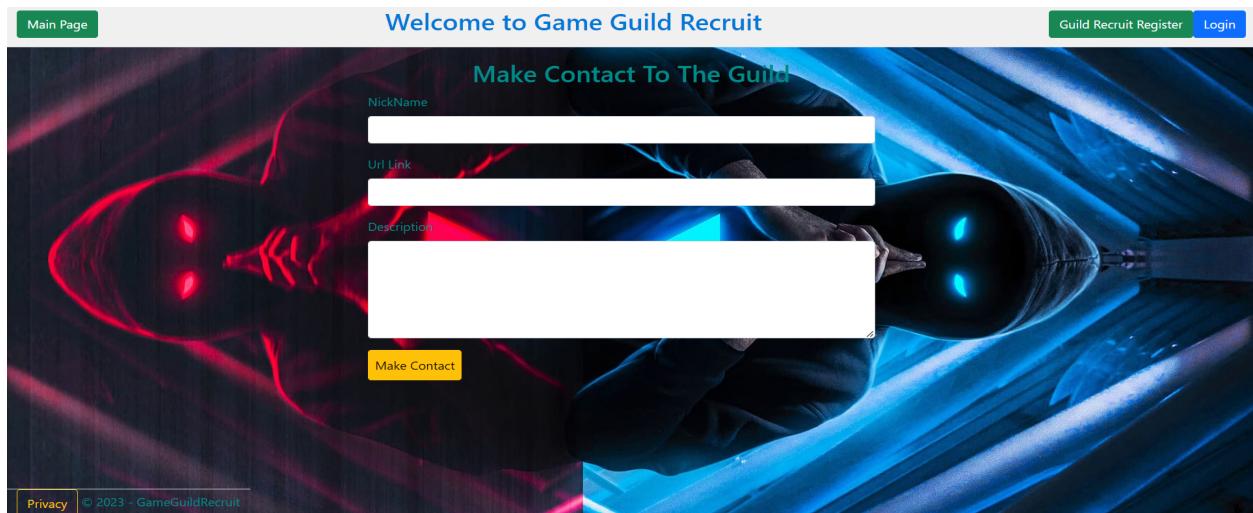

Also in each game there are sticky banners that give information, advertisement and links to similar pages of the game.

Goals

1.3 Register Page

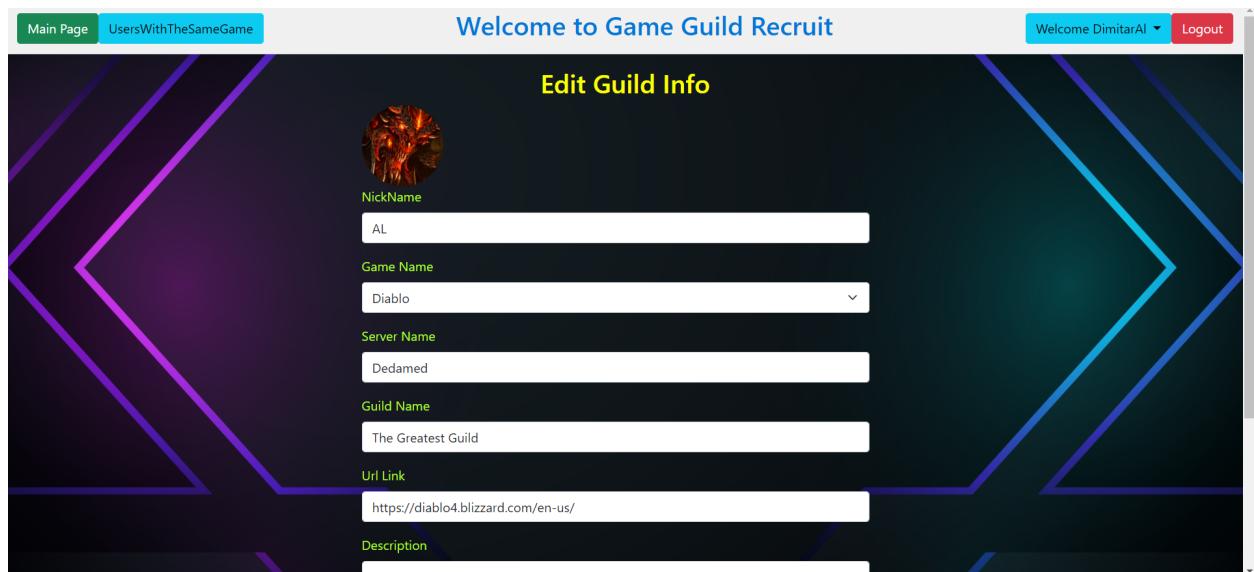

Registration page if you want to create a guild letterhead.

The registration page features a dark background with a glowing pink-to-blue gradient at the top. In the center, there's a white rectangular form with rounded corners. At the top of this form, the word "Register" is written in a blue, sans-serif font. Below it are three input fields: "Username 'No Space'", "Password", and "Confirm Password". Each field has a small placeholder text inside. At the bottom of the form is a green "Register" button. The overall design is clean and modern, with a focus on the registration process.

1.4 Edit Guild Info

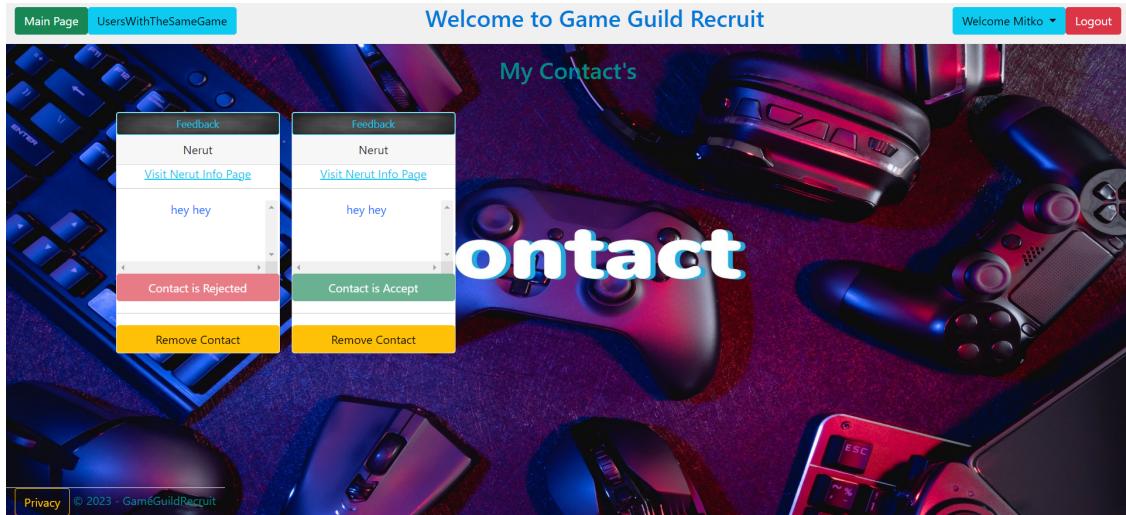

Once you've registered, you have the option to fill out a guild form.
